Other Parties

Please refer to the sections on “The Trustee and the Custodian” and “Other Parties” in the United SGD Fund Prospectus for details of other parties involved in the Underlying Fund.

Investment Objectives, Focus and Approach

The investment objective, focus and approach of the Underlying Fund is described in the section under “Investment Objective, Focus and Approach” in the Underlying Fund.

Risks

Please refer to the section on “Risks” in the Underlying Fund Prospectus for a description of the risk factors associated with investing in the Underlying Fund. The risks may include:

Market Risk in the Global Market

You should consider and satisfy yourself as to the usual risks of investing and participating in publicly traded securities. Prices of securities that the Underlying Fund invests in may be affected by changes in economic conditions, interest rates and the market's perception of securities which in turn may cause the price of Units to rise or fall.

Foreign Exchange and Currency Risk

The Underlying Fund is denominated in Singapore dollars and the Classes are each denominated in the relevant currency (which may or may not be Singapore dollars). Where the Underlying Fund makes investments which are denominated in foreign currencies, fluctuations in the exchange rates of the currency or currencies in which the underlying assets of the Underlying Fund are denominated (the "Portfolio Currency") against the base currency of the Underlying Fund and/or the denominated currency of the relevant Class may affect the value of the relevant Units. In our management of the Underlying Fund, UOB may hedge the foreign currency exposure of the Underlying Fund or any Class against the Portfolio Currency and may adopt an active or passive currency management approach in doing so. However, the foreign currency exposure of the Underlying Fund or the relevant Class may not be fully hedged depending on the circumstances of each case. Such considerations shall include but are not limited to the outlook on the relevant currency, the costs of hedging and the market liquidity of the relevant currency. Subject to the provisions of the Code, in the hedging of any such foreign currency exposure of the relevant Class, UOB may hedge up to 100% of the proportion of the NAV attributed to such Class.

Political Risk

The Underlying Fund's investments may be adversely affected by political instability as well as exchange controls, changes in taxation, foreign investment policies, restrictions on repatriation of investments and other restrictions and controls which may be imposed by the relevant authorities in the relevant countries.

Derivatives Risk

As the Underlying Fund may (subject to the Code) use or invest in FDIs, it will be subject to risks associated with such investments. FDIs include, but are not limited to, foreign exchange forward contracts. An investment in a FDI may require the deposit of initial margin and additional deposit of margin on short notice if the market moves against the investment position.

Liquidity Risk

Investments by the Underlying Fund in some Asian and/or emerging markets often involve a greater degree of risk due to the nature of such markets which do not have fully developed services such as custodian and settlement services often taken for granted in more developed markets. There may be a greater degree of volatility in such markets because of the speculative element, significant retail participation and the lack of liquidity which are inherent characteristics of these markets.

Small Capitalisation Companies Risk

Investments in companies with small capitalisation generally carry greater risk than is customarily associated with companies with larger capitalisation, which may include, for example, less public information, more limited financial resources and product lines, greater volatility, higher risk of failure than larger companies and less liquidity. The result may be greater volatility in the share prices.

Single Country, Sector or Region Risk

You should be aware that investments in a single country, sector or region which may present greater opportunities and potential for capital appreciation may be subject to higher risks as they may be less diversified than a global portfolio.

Interest Rate Risks

The Underlying Fund's investments in debt securities are subject to the risk of interest rate fluctuations, and the prices of debt securities may go up or down in response to such fluctuations in interest rates.

Credit and Default Risks

Adverse changes in the financial condition of the issuer of the debt securities which the Underlying Fund is invested in, or in general economic conditions, or both, or an unanticipated rise in interest rates, may increase the potential for default.

Soft Dollar Commissions or Arrangements

Subject to the provisions of the Code, the Managers may from time to time receive or enter into soft-dollar commissions/arrangements in the management of each Portfolio and the UOBAM Underlying Entities. The Managers will comply with applicable regulatory and industry standards on soft-dollars. The soft-dollar commissions/arrangements which the Managers may receive or enter into include specific advice as to the advisability of dealing in, or of the value of any investments, research and advisory services, economic and political analyses, portfolio analyses including valuation and performance measurements, market analyses, data and quotation services, computer hardware and software or any other information facilities to the extent that they are used to support the investment decision making process, the giving of advice, or the conduct of research or analysis and custodian service in relation to the investments managed for clients.

- a) Soft-dollar commissions/arrangements shall not include travel, accommodation, entertainment, general administrative goods and services, general office equipment or premises, membership fees, employees' salaries or direct money payment.
- b) The Managers may not accept or enter into soft-dollar commissions/arrangements unless: (a) such soft-dollar commissions/arrangements can reasonably be expected to assist them in the management of the Portfolios; (b) best execution is carried out for the transactions; and (c) no unnecessary trades are entered into in order to qualify for such soft-dollar commissions/arrangements.
- c) The Investment Manager of the BlackRock Underlying Entities, BlackRock Advisors (UK) Limited, does not receive or enter into soft-dollar commissions/arrangements, in respect of the BlackRock Underlying Entities
- d) The Managers do not and are not entitled to, retain cash or commission rebates for their own account in respect of rebates earned when transacting in securities for accounts of the Portfolios.

Conflicts of Interest

The Managers are of the view that there is no conflict of interest in managing their other funds and each Portfolio because of the following structures in place:

- a) Investment decisions for each Portfolio are made impartially. There are no preferred customers or funds and all accounts are treated equally.
- b) All investment ideas are shared equally among fund managers.
- c) The Managers subscribe to the Code of Ethics and the Standards of Professional Conduct as prescribed by the Chartered Financial Analyst Institute ("CFA Institute") in U.S.A.. The CFA Institute is the primary professional organisation for security analysts, investment managers and others who are involved in the investment decision-making process. All Certified Financial Analyst charter holders of CFA Institute and candidates who are in pursuit of the charter, including those from Singapore, are expected to comply with CFA Institute standards. The Code of Ethics and the Standards of Professional Conduct are in place to ensure high ethical and professional standards of the investment professionals as well as fair treatment of the investing public.
- d) Despite the possible overlap in the scope of investments, none of the Portfolios are identical to one another and investment decisions are made according to the individual risk return characteristic of the relevant Portfolio.
- e) Most importantly, the Managers' usual fair and unbiased practice is to allocate investment between various funds which place the same orders simultaneously on a pro rata basis. However, should any potential conflicts of interest arise from a situation of competing orders for the same securities, the Managers will adopt an average pricing policy whereby orders that are partially fulfilled on a particular day will be allotted proportionately among the funds based on their respective initial order size and such quantity allotted will be at the average price of such investments on that particular day.

The Managers and the Trustee will conduct all transactions with or for the Underlying Funds on an arm's length basis.
