KEY RISKS
WHAT ARE THE KEY RISKS OF THIS INVESTMENT? The value of the ILP Sub-Fund may rise or fall. The following key risk factors may cause you to lose some or all of your investment:	Refer to Paragraph 8 on Page 21 of the Underlying Fund's Singapore Prospectus for further information.
Market and Credit Risks
You are exposed to the market risk <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Prices of securities change daily, and can fall based on a wide variety of factors. The effects of market risk can be immediate or gradual, short-term or long-term, narrow or broad. You are exposed to emerging markets risk In general, emerging markets (such as the less developed markets of Asia, Africa, South America, and Eastern Europe) involve higher risks than developed markets (such as those of Western Europe, the US, and Japan), for such reasons as: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • political, economic, or social instability • unfavorable changes in regulations and laws • excessive fees, trading costs or taxation, or outright seizure of assets • rules or practices that place outside investors at a disadvantage • incomplete, misleading, or inaccurate information about securities issuers • lack of standardized or reliable custody arrangements, particularly in Russia, where the securities are not directly held or controlled by the Custodian or its local agent • lack of uniform accounting, auditing and financial reporting standards • manipulation of market prices by large investors • arbitrary delays and unscheduled market closures • fraud and corruption You are exposed to equity risk <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Equities involve higher risks than bonds or money market instruments. They can lose value rapidly and remain at low prices indefinitely. Equities of rapidly growing companies are highly sensitive to bad news as their value is based on high expectations for the future. Equities of companies that appear to be priced below true value may continue to be undervalued. Equities of a company going through bankruptcy or other financial restructuring may lose most or all of their value.

- Small / mid-size companies are at greater risk of long-term or permanent setbacks due to fewer financial resources, shorter operating histories and less diverse business lines and their equities are more volatile than those of larger companies.
- Where hedging is successful, it eliminates both opportunities for gain and risks of loss.

You are exposed to the counterparty risk

- The Underlying Fund suffers loss if a counterparty does not meet its obligations to the Underlying Fund. The Underlying Fund can try to recover loss by using any collateral associated with the obligation, but the value of collateral may be worth less than the cash or securities owed to the Underlying Fund. The Underlying Fund's ability to meet its own obligations to other counterparties may be affected. This could cause a delay in the processing of redemptions.
- Securities lending transactions can carry counterparty risk.

You are exposed to the credit risk

- The value of a bond or money market security falls if the financial health of the issuer weakens. In extreme cases, the issuer may delay scheduled payments to investors, or may become unable to make payments, and the issuer's bonds or money market securities may become worthless.

Liquidity Risks

The ILP Sub-Fund is not listed on the Singapore Exchange and you can redeem only on Business Days through Aviva. In respect of Singapore investors, there is no secondary market for the ILP Sub-Fund.

You are exposed to liquidity risk

Securities that are not publicly traded are difficult to value and sell at a desired time and price. This also applies to publicly traded securities but represent a small issue, trade infrequently, or trade on comparatively small markets or have long settlement times. Liquidity issues can cause delays in the processing of requests to redeem shares.

Product-Specific Risks

You are exposed to leverage risk

- To the extent the Underlying Fund creates leverage, its NAV is likely to be more volatile and the risk of large losses is greater.

You are exposed to derivatives risk

- Derivatives transactions are complex and more volatile than traditional investments. They may involve losses that are significantly greater than the cost of the derivative. The pricing and volatility of some derivatives may diverge from the pricing or volatility of their underlying reference(s).
- OTC derivatives are less highly regulated than market-traded securities, and carry greater counterparty risk and liquidity risk.
- Exchange-traded derivatives have lower risk than OTC derivatives, but a suspension of trading in derivatives or in their underlying assets could make it impossible for a Sub-Fund to realise gains or avoid losses, which in turn causes a delay in handling redemptions of shares.

You are exposed to interest rate risk

- When interest rates rise, bond values generally fall. The longer the maturity of bond investments, and the higher the credit quality of the bond, the greater the risk.

You are exposed to currency risk

- Changes in currency exchange rates could reduce investment gains or increase investment losses. Exchange rates can change rapidly and unpredictably.

You are exposed to operational risk

- The Underlying Fund could suffer from losses through people, process and system failures.

You are exposed to the risk of investment in other UCITS or UCIs

- There is the risk that investors will pay investment and/or management fees both to the Underlying Fund and to the UCITS or UCI. These combined fees could be higher than the investor might pay to invest directly in a similar type of investment to the underlying UCITS or UCI.

Refer to the Pricing of Units & Dealing Deadline, Fund Switching, Withdrawal/Surrender and Free Look sections of the Product Summary for further information.

- The ILP Sub-Fund will be priced based on the frequency of the fund manager’s pricing policy. As units are cancelled using a forward price, the unit price for all switching and withdrawal of units will not be available at the time of receiving your application.

The cut-off time stated is correct as at the time of print. Aviva Ltd reserves the right to change the cut-off time by giving you thirty (30) days’ prior notice or any such shorter period of notice as Aviva Ltd may agree with the relevant authorities.

- The Withdrawal Amount you will receive as part of a subsequent withdrawal is illustrated as follows:

Assuming: Policy term of 10 years and the Policyholder wishes to exit in Year 5; Initial Units withdrawn = 10,000; Unit price = S$2; Exit Fee applicable in Year 5 is S$6,950.

Withdrawal Amount = 10,000 X S$2 = S$20,000
